PROFILE

I am currently an attorney and a Major with the Cobb County Police Department. I began my career in law enforcement in 1994 with the Georgia State University Police Department as a campus police officer. In 1995, I began work as a patrolman with the Cobb County Police Department. While I worked as a patrolman on the overnight shift, I attended John Marshall Law School during the evenings beginning in 1996 and graduated Magna Cum Laude in December of 1999. In February 2000 I sat for the Georgia Bar Examination and received a passing score. I then began practicing real estate law as secondary employment. A desire to provide my community with professional police services has motivated me to continue my career in law enforcement.

Shortly after completion of law school, I was appointed to Detective in the Criminal Investigations Unit. My primary responsibility was to investigate various felony and misdemeanor crimes against property. In addition, I also participated in "plain clothes stake-out" details in response to various crime patterns that would occur in my assigned area.

After gaining experience in various felony and misdemeanor investigations, I was assigned to the Training Unit and promoted to the rank of Corporal. At the training unit, I was the immediate supervisor to the police recruit class. The unit conducted two twenty-one week recruit classes per year. I was responsible for teaching Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Liability, and a mock trial class. I also assisted in instruction of law enforcement skills such as traffic stops, felony response and building clearing. I was also responsible for legal and liability training to all department members. I taught annual in-service classes on criminal law, forced entry into private premises, legality of arrest of suspects while in their residences, exigent circumstances, levels of officer citizen encounters, consent searches, law enforcement response to the mentally ill and involuntary committals, state civil liability and federal Constitutional liability.

In November 2003, I was promoted to Sergeant in the Uniform Bureau and assigned to supervise a squad of approximately fifteen officers. This involved direct supervision and review of officers actions taken while responding to crimes and enforcing various laws. This included organization of the initial police response to barricaded suspects, warrant service, and other high risk situations. I supervised vehicle pursuits and conducted post pursuit reviews to ensure that proper police procedures have been followed. I responded to crime scenes and directed investigations that were undertaken by uniformed officers. I also reviewed use of force incidents to determine whether department policies and proper police procedures were followed. In addition to these tasks, I continued to teach the various aforementioned classes at the training center as requested and have also been requested to teach at other agencies such as the North Central Georgia Police Academy and the Gwinnett County Fire Investigators Course. Lastly, I have been retained in the capacity of an expert / consultant on an excessive force and false arrest case in Georgia.

In January 2006, I was assigned to the Office of the Chief of Police to act as a Legal Officer. Details of my current duties are listed below. While in this assignment, I was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant in May of 2007.

In December of 2009, I was appointed to the rank of Captain and placed in command of the Administrative Services Bureau. This command includes units such as Records, Evidence, Public Information Officers, Accreditation, Special Projects, and Permits. I am also still performing the duty of Legal Officer to the Chief of Police.

In July of 2012, I transferred to the Cobb County Department of Public Safety Training Unit where I currently serve as the Director of the Police Academy for the Cobb County Police Department.

In February 2016, I was appointed to the rank of Major and placed in Command of Precinct V. Precinct V, is a full service law enforcement precinct which encompasses both uniform patrol and detectives.
